

Come Home

What once was is now a distant memory? How can we leave and forsake the one who saved us, who healed us, who delivered us?

Jesus is calling those who once walked in sweet fellowship with Him, back home again.

I have been waiting patiently for you as you decided to go see what the world has to offer, the riches and the glamor, the pleasures that last for a moment. What has it profited you? Are you any better?

This day is a reckoning, everything in your past can be wiped clean, can be removed from the books. This very moment, you can have a fresh start, you can be free, healed, delivered. Is it worth the pain and torment, do you not hear me calling you to come home? Calling your name! COME HOME, the time is short and the cost great, are you willing to not only sacrifice your life but the other lives that would have been changed if you had been walking with me? I AM Calling a generation who had once walked with me, but for what ever reason had gotten side tracked, moved, pushed, crushed, beaten up, despised, rejected, even by my own people. This day you can have a fresh life. A fresh breath. Turn from your sins and come home. THIS IS THE WORD OF THE LORD for you.
